LAST MEETING OF LOCAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN IS A BUSY AND IMPORTANT ONE

Members Pass Resolution Favoring Establishment of State Laboratory.

YEAR'S CLOSING SESSION

"Women Workers" Discussed and Noble Work of Indianapolis Women Commended.

The Local Council of Women held the closing meeting of its year yesterday afternoon at the Propyleum. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Day, the vice president, Mrs. John W. Kern, occupied the chair.

Following the reports of the secretary and treasurer, a resolution recommending the co-operation of the local council with the State Board of Health for the establishment of a state laboratory, introduced at a previous meeting, was taken up for discussion. The advantages of the state laboratory in regulating matters of sewage and in arresting the spread of tuberculosis and like diseases were discussed at length, and the resolution was adopted by the council. Another resolution, also introduced by Mrs. Moody, recommending the giving of a free lecture course next winter by the council, to which a number of the societies affiliated with the council had already pledged their support, was withdrawn by the author in accordance with the general feeling of the council that the affiliated societies had already been taxed to a sufficient extent this year.

Mrs. Kern expressed the thanks of the council to Mrs. Moody for her generosity in withdrawing the resolution.

A communication from the Woman's Club of Indianapolis proffering the resignation of the club from the Local Council was read and, following the custom of the council, was accepted with deep regret and without discussion.

The paper of the afternoon, written by Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks and read by Mrs. James W. Noel, had for its subject, "Women Workers," and was an exceedingly interesting resume of the work done by women in all ages. The writer said that the deeds of the greatest women were the glory of all women, and recounted the achievements of Miriam, Sappho, Hypatia, Catherine of Russia, Florence Nightingale, Lady Mary Wortley Montague, Caroline Herschell, Mary Somerville, Elizabeth Blackwell, Martha Washington, Clara Barton, Dr. Mary Putnam Jacoby, Mrs. Terhune, Mrs. John E. Henderson, Mrs. Marlan Mitchell, Miss Jane Addams and Mrs. Frederick Nathan as examples of what the good women of ages may do.

The founders of the women's clubs, and the body of women who, working for the franchise, failed not to succeed, or in modifying many laws obnoxious to women, the writer declared did work of importance to women and the world, in the nineteenth century.

Following the reading of the paper a conversation on the war of the city, which have done noble and lasting work was led by Mrs. Kern, who spoke at length upon the noble achievements of the Indiana Free Kindergarten and Normal Training School; Mrs. Sewall also spoke for the women of Indianapolis, especially in establishing the Local Council, and Mrs. S. B. Loomis, of the "Fine Arts" club, spoke for the women spoken of by various council members.

One of the most enthusiastic tributes was that given by Mrs. Mary Moody to Mrs. Potter, through whose efforts the Door of Hope was established. Mrs. Potter, who had been opposed by clergymen and most of the people in Indianapolis, but a society of which she was a member, had undertaken its support. After a short time the society refused to support it any longer, and Mrs. Potter alone undertook the responsibility, and with the help of her son, kept the institution in existence. The credit for the noble work that the Door of Hope has done since its institution belongs almost wholly to Mrs. Potter, who supported it in the face of all obstacles and opposition.

Mrs. Barnett presented a report from the committee on the education of city and municipal institutions, describing a visit to the Girls' Industrial School at home and abroad. Mrs. Potter also presented a report for the noble work that the Door of Hope has done since its institution belongs almost wholly to Mrs. Potter, who supported it in the face of all obstacles and opposition.

Before the adjournment of the council Mrs. Kern gave a report on the work of the year, which has been a most profitable one, the value of the program, and promising a season of as great profit for the coming year.

Diving Horses at Fairview.
When the public schools close for the summer, Friday, the young folks will at once cast about for place of amusement. The management of Fairview Park has anticipated this by securing the famous diving horses, "King" and "Queen," for a nine days' engagement at Fairview, beginning the very day following the close of school, Saturday, June 11, and ending Sunday, June 19. The diving exhibitions will take place every afternoon and evening, and in addition there will be concerts by the Indianapolis Military Band on the two Sundays included in the engagement. The appearance of the horses marks the real opening of the season at Fairview, and it is believed that it will be one of the most valuable classes ever established in the institution. An effort will be made to continue it through the summer.

Before the adjournment of the council Mrs. Kern gave a report on the work of the year, which has been a most profitable one, the value of the program, and promising a season of as great profit for the coming year.

Colored Man, After Quarrel with Wife, Shoots Brother-in-Law and Escapes.
After deliberately emptying his revolver at a roomful of his relatives, and seriously wounding one of them, Brutus Owens, colored, living at 313 Osage street, last evening calmly walked to the front of the house where the affray occurred, 623 Muskingum street, emptied the useless shells from his smoking weapon, replaced the chambers with fresh cartridges and made his escape.

Owens had had trouble with his wife and had not been living with her for the past few days. She went to the home of her mother, Mrs. Goodall, who lives on Muskingum street. Last night her husband called at the house for the evident purpose of renewing the quarrel with his wife. He is said to have used vile language in addressing her, and when they made reply he promptly drew his revolver and fired four shots at his mother-in-law.

John Goodall, Owens's brother-in-law, had heard the quarrelling and had started down stairs to the room where the shooting took place, just as he opened the stair door Owens turned on him and fired. The ball struck Goodall in the hip and he fell to the floor. Then, without a word, Owens left the house.

The disciplinary ambulance was called and the injured man was hurried to the hospital. His wound is painful but not serious.

WILL CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING TO-DAY

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Knox, Former Residents of This City, Will Have Family Reunion.

LIVE AT MARTINSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Knox, former residents of Indianapolis, who now live at Martinsville, will to-day celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. At noon to-day there will be a reunion of members of their family and friends at their farm near Brooklyn, and to-night they will hold a reception at their home in Martinsville.

Mr. Knox was born Feb. 28, 1832, in Clinton county, Ohio. He served over three years in the civil war, as a member of the Thirty-third Indiana Infantry. He was captured and was a prisoner in Libby Prison. He was a resident of Indianapolis for a number of years, and in 1873 was one of the founders of the Fletcher-place M. E. Church. Mrs. Knox is five years her husband's junior, having been born in Morgan county, this State, in 1837. She was a daughter of the Rev. Jacob Bromwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Knox were married June 8, 1854, at Waverly. Despite their advanced ages they are hale and hearty. They have seven children living—M. C. Knox and Mrs. J. M. Julian, of Indianapolis; Mrs. J. F. Richardson and Mrs. R. C. Minton, of Martinsville; Miss Arda K. of Bedford, and Mrs. J. E. Jennie, of North Dakota.

BOSSON IS REFUSED A CHANGE OF VENUE

Plaintiff in Midland Portland Cement Receivership Case Must Stay with Judge Leathers.

The petition of William Bosson, attorney for A. W. Thompson, suing the Midland Portland Cement Company for the appointment of a receiver, for a change of venue from Judge Leathers's court was refused yesterday, and the case will come up for trial in Room 2, Superior Court, this morning. The fact of contesting a petition for a change of venue is an unusual proceeding in court, and the action was hotly contested by the attorneys for both the plaintiffs and the defense.

The motion for a change of venue was opposed by the attorneys for the company on the grounds that a previous arrangement had been entered into with Mr. Bosson whereby his client, Mr. Thompson, was to withdraw his former motion for a change of venue on the ground that the case in the case as a party to the suit would not be contested. Mr. Bosson claimed that this was a misstatement of the facts, and that he had been misled by certain statements made by the attorneys for the defense.

FATHER ACQUITTED OF CAUSING BOY'S DEATH

Sick Child Was Not Cared for by Physician, but Was Prayed For.

The decision of a Clinton county court, which discharged Joseph Chenoweth on a charge of manslaughter, was yesterday affirmed by the Supreme Court. Chenoweth was charged with killing his infant boy by not summoning medical attention when the child was sick with the whooping cough. Boston of doing this he had an elder cousin in and about the child with oil and pray for it. He also wrote to Dowie in Chicago to pray for the child, and Dowie, in the opinion of Judge Jordan, who spoke for the court, the religious doctrine of belief in the power of prayer, is not a justification or excuse for his committing an act which is a criminal offense under the law. This opinion is accepted as an indication of what might be done to a believer in Christian healing or kindred faiths if the proper case should be brought before the court.

NUMBER OF TYPHOID CASES CONTINUES TO GROW LESS

Four Cases Reported Yesterday—Table Shows Most Cases Where City Water Is Drunk.

Four new cases of typhoid fever were reported yesterday at the office of the City Board of Health. This is the average number of cases that has been reported during the past five days, and it is thought the epidemic is not spreading as fast as was at first thought. Two deaths resulted yesterday from typhoid fever.

According to a table made from an examination of the sanitary surveys of typhoid fever by Dr. Fred Towles, the greatest number of cases of typhoid are in homes where city water has been used for drinking. The purposes of the table show that at 30 of the places where there is typhoid city water was drunk, at 16 places water was obtained from dug wells, and at 18 places from driven wells. However, seventy of the latter cases might have been due to city water drunk at places of business.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES ARE HELD AT SHORTRIDGE

Senior Class Has Afternoon of Farewells—Leaves Legacy of Ax.

MONEY IN THE TREASURY

The senior class of Shortridge High School wound up its school year with its class day exercises yesterday afternoon in the auditorium. The afternoon was spent in a last jollification before graduation, and the students entered into the spirit of the affair with a determination to make it a success.

J. Walter Pritchard, president of the class, opened the exercises with a splendid farewell speech, thanking each member of the class for his hearty co-operation in the different affairs that the class has undertaken.

Professor Arthur W. Dunn spoke next for the faculty. He said that he thought it was peculiarly fitting that he should speak, as he also considered himself a member of the "Naughty Four" class, having started his work in Shortridge at the same time that the seniors did. He congratulated the members of the class who were presented with their work after leaving Shortridge.

The treasurer's report, by Albert Aronson, showed that the class had made over $1,400, after all expenses had been paid.

Miss Louise Milligan was presented with a medal by the French Society of America for being the most proficient French student in the school. Many of the prominent members of the class were presented with childish toys by Historian Edward Lewis.

Professor Charles Swain Thomas, head of the English department, presented a paper on the class motto, "Magna est Veritas," Frank Doudican, the class historian, spoke on the subject of "Opportunity."
